Prayer of the Bereaved

Lord, at the moment nothing seems to help the loss I feel.
All I know is that
This day, this hour
Moment by moment
I choose to lean on You, For when I am at my weakest Your strength is strongest.
I pour out my grief to You And praise You that on one glorious day, when all suffering is extinguished and love has conquered, we will walk together again. Amen.

Disturbing Love and The Warmth of Love (Luke 12:49-53)

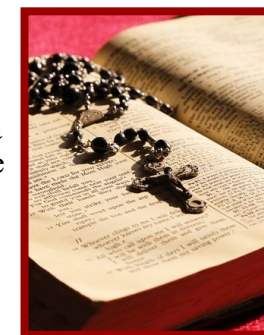

Fire is frightening; it can burn up a city. Controlled it is warming: in control in a grate; and it also warms the heart, when we sit back, watch the flames and chat, think or pray. Jesus came to bring fire on the earth. His is the warmth of love and companionship: when we know we can go to him just as we are, and enjoy the intimacy of his friendship - the friend who is always offering the gift of his heart to each of us.

The warmth of Jesus brings comfort and hope to the world when we live in isolation from each other, lack of friendship and hope. When we lack the reconciliation and justice that makes life possible among us, then the warmth of God's love for all can inflame our coldness.

There is also the fire that disturbs; love challenges as well as comforts. The flame of God can be frightening in that it demands a world of justice, peace and reconciliation. The fire of this love is the fire that also warms and comforts.

The flame of God is the Holy Spirit. Jesus comes to bring all sorts of fire to the world, and to send the Spirit of comfort, justice, reconciliation and hope. The message of Jesus may divide us, and if it does, the love of Jesus can unite us, for love is the most powerful gift of Jesus.

MUSINGS

Summer is a time for space; a time for time.
Daniel O'Leary writes
'We forget to appreciate the value of space and of spaces. Without the blank margins on the page before you just now, you could not read it. If ever we are to hear a story or a song, there has to be spaces between the letters of a word, silence between the notes of a melody
...it makes me ask how I'm doing today, why I'm rushing so much, why I don't stop and breathe more slowly and just look around me?' Indeed, it is only in still waters that we can truly see ourselves.

REFLECTION

It's Never Too Late to Have a Good Day.....

A friend called as I was in the middle of a difficult day. When he asked, "How's it going?" I launched into a litany of woes: malfunctioning alarm clock, spilled juice on a new white shirt, three empty buses flying by as I hurried toward my bus stop, and an important and urgent e-mail inexplicably bounced back, missing a deadline. I was about to continue my griping when my friend gently interrupted: "Well, it's never too late to have a good day."

At first I wanted to hang up. I was looking for sympathy, and he offered me a strong dose of wisdom instead. I wanted to wallow in victimhood, and he offered me the opportunity to put my faith into practice.

I knew what he was trying to tell me. He'd shared his beliefs with me before, both in word and in example. I'd seen him handle difficulties with grace and patience and even a touch of humour.

"How can I do that?" I asked. He said I needed to stop agonizing and take a few deep breaths.
Then I could ask God for help with whatever would come my way that day.

Finally, I simply needed to stop looking backward and instead do the next thing right in front of me, for that's where God's help would meet me. I took his advice, and since then I've become a big believer in these three steps - :

Stop agonizing Ask God for help
Do the next thing right in front of you

DIVISIONS (Luke 12:49-53)

We all have divisions within us. There are the desires in us for all the good ideas and values of Jesus, and desires that go the opposite. St. Ignatius highlights that wealth, honour and pride can deflect us off the path of Jesus. Don't we know this well?

Jesus knew the joy of following through on what is right and loving, even to death.
This is the call and the joy of the follower of Jesus. Knowing that we are forgiven for all by an understanding God, we can push forward to following as best we can the Lord of life, Jesus Christ.

PRAYER FOR FAMILY

Heavenly Father,
Please shine your light upon my family.
Give us strength to overcome all of the difficulties that we are dealing with now and protect us against any and all problems
we may encounter
in the future.

O Lord, please bring us together as we are meant to be.
May the love that binds us only grow stronger as we fulfill the destiny you have laid out for us.
Grant us forgiveness for any sins we have committed. May we also forgive one another Lord,
as it is sometimes difficult to do.
Bless us Lord,
In your name I pray, Amen
