Addressing educators, Pope Francis recalled that education has always been one of the highest expressions of Christian charity: 'Yours is a mission full of obstacles as well as joys... A mission of love because you cannot teach without loving.' In this sense, since ancient times, Christians have understood that knowledge liberates, gives dignity, and brings us closer to the truth. For the Church, teaching the poor was an act of justice and faith. Inspired by the example of the Master who taught people divine and human truths, she took on the mission of forming children and young people, especially the poorest, in truth and love.

TEMPERANCE SUNDAY

The Challenge of Moderation

Alcohol confronts us with our own frailty and weakness. Even those who are not addicted need the support of a higher power in the journey through life if we are to avoid the perils of addiction.

We need the support of friends, of family and of God. Indeed, there may be people around us who need our support. The love and support of God is mediated through people just like us when we reach out to others, bringing God's love and care into our world.

Pastoral Letter from the Irish Catholic Bishops' Conference)

BEYOND THE MERE LETTER OF THE LAW

Matthew 5:17-37

Many of Jesus' contemporaries whose dedication to keeping every dot and title of the law can only be described as admirable. However, their sense of satisfaction was severely challenged when Jesus indicated that the law was not enough. He did not abolish the law; rather he used it as a launching pad to propel his followers beyond the mere letter of the law to the spirit that lay behind it.

Jesus challenged his disciples to a holiness that reached far beyond the law – perfect legal observance would not be enough but rather a good start. No doubt many were disappointed and even angry. But there were others who were able to look with Jesus beyond the law to the loving God who inspired it. Those who accepted Jesus' challenge would begin to frame their lives with new questions – what more can I do? What more can I become?

Some responses to these questions are answered in today's Gospel by a series of listed obligations of the law. For instance, the law against murder must also include hatred, anger and scorn. The law against false oaths would also include integrity, so that our 'yes' is really yes and our 'no' is really no. This is to show that people are valued more than legal observance and that our friendship with God hinges heavily upon our bonding with other people. Our offering of a gift to God is insincere if we withhold forgiveness from one another. Until the reign of God is established and acknowledged in every human heart, Jesus challenges us to move beyond the mere letter of the law to that area of grace where love knows no limits.
